

A. H. Fox Double

For the first time in fifty years, A.H. Fox doubles are being manufactured again in the United States. The Connecticut Shotgun Manufacturing Company is currently producing the higher grades of the original Fox 20 gauge double barrel shotgun. Featuring the same handling qualities, balance, and reliability as the pre-World War II models, the doubles have scalloped and rebated receivers, beautifully engraved scroll and game scenes, and Turkish Circassian walnut stocks. Polishing, rust bluing, engraving, checkering, and fitting is all done by hand by master gunsmiths. Priced at $5,650, higher grade versions range in price from $8,500 to $17,500; the Exhibition Grade priced at $25,000.
